

2008 MRS WIGLEY

Moscato

MELBOURNE TIMES Jeff Gordon, OCT 08

“I preferred the Mrs Wigley (5 moscatos tasted) because, despite the sweetness there was some delicious acidity underneath.”

TASTE FOOD & WINE 2009 Matthew Jukes/Tyson Stelzer

“Mrs Wigley is the definitive breakfast wine to enjoy with fresh cut pink melon slices and the lightest of pancakes (or filthy great sausage sandwiches slathered in ketchup nestling in humongous buns- if you get our drift?). The colour alone of this impish sparkler might drive a strapping man to tears, such is the beauty, so take it steady. If all goes to plan you will be rewarded with the usual fairy-light Moscato flavours, this time punctuated with dribs of honey and drabs of fresh ginger-yum, yum ,yum.”

90 Points “More rosé character than most others in this zone, and drier and pithier elements through the palate that add a zip to the final flourish.”

DONNA HAY Maryann Egan, MAR 09

“With less than seven percent alcohol and lychee and muscatel aromas, this wine is the ideal partner with breakfast. Enjoy with raspberry buttermilk pancakes or our plum semifreddo.”

SYDNEY MORNING HERALD Full Bottle, Greg Duncan Powell, MAR 09

“The thing that separates this moscato from the rest of the pack is its zesty, grapefruity acidity and musky aromatics. It is not just grapey and sweet; the pale salmon colour and subtle fizz are spot on, too.”
